Action Items

3. Public Participation Plan Dan Moore

Background: The purpose of the Plan is to provide all interested parties with reasonable opportunities to comment on the plans, programs, and projects. The policies and practices described in the Public Participation Plan recognize the need for robust public involvement at all stages of regional planning. The plan is intended to encourage, facilitate, and follow through on public comments, concerns, and suggestions by establishing procedures for providing full public access to information and decisions, timely public notices, and early and continuing public involvement in plan development.
